McKENRY, KY.

Sept. 12.—The meeting closed on the night of the 11th and Rev. J. O. Nail-man and his wife left on the night train for their respective homes.

The Ohio County Academy School Convention opened here last Saturday, the 11th, and we expect a good representation from all parts of the county. The Christian work began in the Sunday school and we should like to see many more of our people here.

The school will be in session today night, to celebrate the centennial of the two. After a song or two by W. W. Jones and others, the program, we partook of some delicious refreshments. The remainder of the evening was spent in "songs, questions," and other lively songs, interspersed with vocal and instrumental music.

The ladies being in the majority, we had a pretty good time.

Our new ball club met the last Saturday in a game at the Hartford fair grounds with the Owensboro team. The score was 11 to 7 in favor of Owensboro. The boys were very fa-vorablely impressed with the Owensboro team, but won't tackle them any more this season.

Frankfort Public Schools.

Frankfort, Kentucky.

The city public schools, under the superintendency of Prof. McHenry, year last Monday. The enrollment of pupils shows a large attendance at the opening of the schools than at any previous year.

First schools as usual, and schooling of the school attendance was in thorough and efficient in all respects.

Mr. J. J. Smith, of the firm of Carson &

Co., returned from Louisville, Kentucky,

Monday.
